

The GlobalActor Power Groups

The #GlobalActor Power Group is a unique group coaching program designed specifically for actors who are ready to dream big, take action, and book the work they've always desired. As your coach, it is my intention to help you fill your toolbox with fresh marketing materials, build upon your existing industry relationships, and create more opportunities so you can get in more rooms, confidently book the work you deserve, and pay all of your bills from your art.

Here's what the Power Group includes:

Bi-Weekly Coaching Sessions We will meet via Zoom (think of it as Skype on steroids) for a group meeting session ten times over the course of five months. During each session, you will have one-on-one deep-dive coaching with me where we'll brainstorm, strategize and plan clear actions for your performance career.

“Elise is spectacular at helping you set a specific action plan to get results, whether that's trying to get new representation or forming other industry relationships. But she's also great at getting you into the right mindset, as a human being, to be able to take those steps with joy and fearlessness. It's a complete approach, and it really works.”

- Ellen Adair, Power Group actor (Homeland, The Slap, Billions)

“If I had not been made aware of and then took the step to work with Elise, I would not be in the position I am in now. For the first time in my life, I am a working voice actor, having just signed on to voice three audiobooks for a local publisher. Next week I'll be recording a video game demo with a world renowned demo producer. I worked with other business coaches and marketing coaches over the past 4 years or so and literally nothing changed. There was no forward movement. Elise brought support, validation, connection and real concrete "Go and do THIS" instructions that were actionable, logical and showed measurable results.”

- Eric Fox, Power Group voice actor (Audiobook Narrator, VO Clients include 7/11, Dell, US Army)

FaceBook Office Hours We'll meet in a private Facebook group once a month for office hours. It will be an opportunity for Q+A and feedback on your marketing materials, self-tape auditions, and more. The FaceBook group is also a great place to share resources, support fellow actors and find an accountability partner for check-ins between our group meetings. If you are unable to make these hours, you are always welcome to post questions ahead of time for coaching during office hours.
